1 the plaintiffs won't voice the time that I would give them to
2 go into, but for the most part there still substantial issues
3 to be resolved; isn't that right?

4 MR. FISHER: I think the issues are very narrow at 5 this point and are outside the scope of the subjects listed in 6 the 30(b)6 notice.

7 THE COURT: I'm sorry. They didn't want -- I mean, I
8 read the deposition. They were trying to figure out how the 9 program operated, how many times it invaded Facebook's space
10 and that sort of thing. And the knowledge of Mr. Vachani's on 11 that subject and others on that subject, those things all seem 12 relevant to damages to me. Aren't they?

13 MR. FISHER: And I think he's already testified about 14 those subjects and I think the Court has already determined the 15 number of times that emails were sent.

16 THE COURT: Number of times? The Court made a
17 finding on number of times?

18 MR. FISHER: That was submitted by Mr. Mehling,
19 Facebook's expert, who determined there were 60,000 emails that 20 were sent and defendants have not disputed that.

21 THE COURT: Well, that's -- that's different. I
22 mean, they want to say it's many more than that. That's what 23 they know from what they got. Now they want to do an 24 investigation that they thought they should have been able to 25 do before and say, well, that -- that's the minimum number that

CERTIFICATE OF REPORTER

I, DEBRA L.
